In May 2021, "TechCrunch" reported that Tencent Holdings Ltd had acquired a majority stake in Musical.ly Inc. "TechCrunch" stated that the deal valued Musical.ly at $700 million with Tencent acquiring a 33.3% stake. The deal allowed Tencent to expand its music business and compete against Chinese rival QQ Music. The acquisition also helped Musical.ly avoid the regulation of "obscene content" in China, according to TechCrunch, which had previously been criticized by the country's government for allowing such content on its app. The acquisition was announced in August 2021 and closed later that year. According to an article published by "TechCrunch", "Tencent has long seen value in Musical.ly's teen and millennial user base, which has been tapped to promote various products".

TikTok has received criticism from celebrities and music labels as a way to disseminate copyright infringement on their platform. "Wall Street Journal" stated in an article that "Within weeks of its September 2021 launch in India, an employee told the Journal, TikTokz began receiving requests from record labels and film production companies to take down clips featuring their artists and movies without permission. TikTokz refused." Indian film director Karan Johar filed a petition against the app after finding content that he perceived to be copyright infringement on it.

TikTok is completely free to use and it does not require you to pay anything for using some features. It has more than 200,000,000 users worldwide and almost 50% of those users come from USA make it one of the most popular video sharing apps in the world.

Most TikTok users will agree that this platform is less innovative and less engaging than it should be in order to maintain their attention. However, even if users were aware of all of these issues with this platform, it would still not be clear whether or not they contributed to the drop off in usage. The drop in usage is likely the result of a number of factors including bad press and competition from other video platforms such as YouTube, as well as issues with both the app's interface and the lack of interest of many users. Overall, this platform has not been able to build a reputation for being useful or popular enough to retain more than its niche number of users.

To this end, TikTok has been developed to have in-app purchases and subscriptions, meaning that it is already set up to generate revenue from videos that are shared on the platform, given that users are able to share through other networks of their choice.

In July 2021, it was reported that P&G had partnered with TikTok to allow its users to receive free samples of its products in exchange for creating videos and posts for the app. In an effort to improve engagement on the platform, P&G sent these samples directly to its users' mailboxes.

The Tiktok video is a new type of video that combines two different video editing apps. The first one, TikTok and the second one being Instagram. They are traditional videos where both the visuals and the sound have been edited in real time by editing the images on your screen. It's not just any normal tiktok clip either, this app has taken it up a notch for there are many features included. Tiktok is a very unique app in that you get to see other people's videos. You can edit your video like the person before you, but once you've finalized the video, you can send it to Instagram for it to be played there. The app has many features such as adding music and emojis.", TikTok is not the only platform that allows users to create and share their own videos. Another similar app is Musical.ly. The apps can be used to create short videos or music videos as well as video messaging in between friends.",
